Labour Standards and Reporting

At Medicareplus International, we are committed to maintain the highest standards of business conduct and ethical behaviour. Operating with trust and integrity is the foundation of our business – it's what enables Medicareplus International to build lasting customer relationships. We rely on our employees, customers and business partners to help us uphold these practices. It is everyone's responsibility to bring forward issues or concerns that they are aware of which may impact the company. If you suspect or are aware of behaviour in violation of the LSAS policy, we ask that you promptly report this information directly to our Directors which have been named on our website via: email 'privateandconfidential@medicareplus.co.uk'. Any information shared via this email will be treated with strict confidentiality. Information will be reviewed fairly, promptly and in a sensitive manner.
